NOTE FOR DCI FROM C/IAD

As you will recall, Charles Wick, Director of ICA, briefed the President in California on arrangements that were needed to strengthen and coordinate the government's worldwide information programs, particularly those designed to expose and counter Soviet disinformation in Western Europe. The President approved a centralized role for ICA in this process. To begin implementing this tasking, Gil Robinson, the ICA Deputy Director, called the first meeting of the Interagency Working Group on Information Management on 1 September.

I am attaching for your background reading a copy of [redacted]s memorandum on the 1 September meeting, since the subject may come up during your breakfast with the Secretary.
